TWENTY-SECOND SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME LITURGY OF THE WORD

READING I

—IS 35:4-7A

Thus says the LORD:

Say to those whose hearts are frightened: Be strong, fear not! Here is your God, he comes with vindication; with divine recompense he comes to save you. Then will the eyes of the blind be opened, the ears of the deaf be cleared; then will the lame leap like a stag, then the tongue of the mute will sing. Streams will burst forth in the desert, and rivers in the steppe. The burning sands will become pools, and the thirsty ground, springs of water.

PSALM No. 145: I Will Praise Your Name

READING II

—JAS 2:1-5

My brothers and sisters, show no partiality as you adhere to the faith in our glorious Lord Jesus Christ. For if a man with gold rings and fine clothes comes into your assembly, and a poor person in shabby clothes also comes in, and you pay attention to the one wearing the fine clothes and say, "Sit here, please," while you say to the poor one, "Stand there," or "Sit at my feet," have you not made distinctions among yourselves and become judges with evil designs? Listen, my beloved brothers and sisters. Did not God choose those who are poor in the world to be rich in faith and heirs of the kingdom that he promised to those who love him?

MASS INTENTIONS:

Daily Mass Intentions are available for parishioners who would like their intentions to be remembered at Mass. Intentions are available for those who have died or for someone who is living. Stop by the Parish Office or call us to obtain a date and time.

GOSPEL

—MK 7:31-37

Again Jesus left the district of Tyre and went by way of Sidon to the Sea of Galilee, into the district of the Decapolis. And people brought to him a deaf man who had a speech impediment and begged him to lay his hand on him. He took him off by himself away from the crowd. He put his finger into the man's ears and, spitting, touched his tongue; then he looked up to heaven and groaned, and said to him, "Ephphatha!"— that is, "Be opened!" — And immediately the man's ears were opened, his speech impediment was removed, and he spoke plainly. He ordered them not to tell anyone. But the more he ordered them not to, the more they proclaimed it. They were exceedingly astonished and they said, "He has done all things well. He makes the deaf hear and the mute speak."

Galatians 1

Dear parishioners of Transfiguration,

I am sorry to report that Fr. Paul will be on Medical Leave to deal with a recurring health problem. Although he desires to be at work, his doctor insists that he take time away from the parish.

We can expect him to be gone for a number of months. In the meantime, please pray for his recovery.

Thank you for your understanding and consideration.

All mail and good wishes can be passed on to him through the parish office. If you have any questions or concerns do not hesitate to contact me directly.

How will this affect our ministry here at Transfiguration?

I'm very proud of my parish staff. They have been doing great in helping me to meet all your spiritual needs and were very supportive to me when they heard the news about Fr. Paul.

I ask your support as well as your understanding because this situation will bring some changes in our ministry at Transfiguration until Fr. Paul is back. It is going to be very difficult to find a priest available for two reasons; First: Because the short number of priests available to serve in the Archdiocese of Chicago and Second: all priests have already assigned to a Parish.

After praying and self-reflection I made the next changes:

1. I will be taking over all pastoral, sacramental and spiritual needs for all of you. If we are blessed to have a priest come and help on the weekends, I'll be very grateful to the Lord Jesus.

2. As much as I regret it, we will not have morning mass on Mondays and Saturdays. THERE WILL BE A PRAYER SERVICE WITH HOLY COMMUNION. I ask you for your understanding and kindness.

Let's keep Fr. Paul in our prayers and pray for me too so the Lord uses me as an instrument to be able to meet all your spiritual needs as your pastor and brother.

If you have any questions and concerns, please be kind and contact me by Email: javila@archchicago.org

Yours is the Lord,
Rev. Juan Pablo

STEWARDSHIP

*SOMOS DISCIPULOS COMPROMETIDOS
DZIELENIE SIĘ DARAMI*

"Did not God choose those who are poor in the world to be rich in faith and heirs of the kingdom that he promised to those who love him?" - James 2:5

What is more important – being rich in faith or rich in possessions? Society teaches us that possessions are most important. God teaches a different lesson. When we are rich in faith, we keep God first in all things and realize that material things really don't matter and that it's more important to share with those who have less.

*"¿No escogió Dios a los pobres del mundo para que sean ricos en fe y herederos del reino que prometió a los que lo aman?"
- Santiago 2:5*

¿Qué es más importante: ser rico en fe o rico en posesiones? La sociedad nos enseña que las posesiones son lo más importante. Dios enseña una lección diferente. Cuando somos ricos en fe, mantenemos a Dios primero en todas las cosas y nos damos cuenta de que las cosas materiales en realidad no importan y que es más importante compartirlas con los que menos tienen.

Time Management 101

“Time management” used to be a far-off concept for me—and I thought I was managing my time just fine. But then, during one semester in college, my packed schedule left me feeling overwhelmed, frazzled, and constantly panicked. I was taking extra classes so I could graduate early, working three part-time jobs, helping lead a women’s group, trying to balance my other extracurricular activities, and attempting to find time to exercise, sleep, and eat in between. Because I had so much going on, I had a hard time shaking myself out of my frazzled state. A few weeks after I returned home for the summer and started to recover from the semester’s stress, my dad commented on how I looked and sounded much healthier than when I had first arrived at home. I hadn’t even noticed that the stress had taken such a toll on my physical appearance. After that semester, I started to make conscious choices to manage my time well. What I learned has followed me into my adult life and helps me to be more effective at my job, more present to the tasks in front of me, and less stressed. Here are five tips I learned that can help us all find balance in the day.

1. PRACTICE THE TWO-MINUTE RULE

The two-minute rule is the single piece of advice that has changed the way I approach those little tasks that build up and cause stress. The rule is this: if you can finish a task in two minutes, just do it now. So if there are a few dishes in the sink, take two minutes to wash them before you sit down for dinner. If you need to ask a coworker a quick question, take two minutes after your next meeting to ask. Take two minutes to clear the clutter from your desk. It seems simple, but practicing this rule helps to alleviate stress. It keeps you from feeling overwhelmed simply because there are lots of small tasks hanging over your head.

2. LEARN TO SAY NO

Don’t overcommit because you feel like you can’t say no. Sometimes we feel obligated to attend an event or take on a new project just so we don’t disappoint others. But it’s more important that you’re able to devote the necessary time and attention to everything you’re committed to. Make a list of everything you’re currently involved in—book clubs, sports leagues, men’s or women’s groups, exercise classes. Then, take a good look at the list. What on that list makes you happy? What makes you stressed? If any of your activities are more stressful than enjoyable, see which ones you can realistically eliminate from your regular schedule.

Do this exercise every six months, and decide to eliminate at least one thing from your list. It’s okay to say no sometimes—and doing so will make you a more effective person.

3. CUT DOWN THE NOTIFICATIONS

While you’re working on a task, if possible, put your cell phone in “do not disturb” mode or on silent and ignore it. When your phone is constantly buzzing with notifications from calendars, reminders, and apps, it’s easy to let it become a distraction. Usually, these notifications aren’t urgent, and they end up preventing us from being attentive to the task at hand. Do what you can to eliminate distractions in your workspace. If you’re trying to focus on one project at work, open a new window in your browser so extra tabs—like your email inbox—don’t distract you. Turn off or mute your email notifications so you don’t feel the need to respond to each email as it arrives in your inbox.

4. TAKE BREAKS

Although it might seem counterintuitive, studies have shown that we’re more productive when we take breaks from our work. Taking time for ourselves prevents us from getting burnt out. When you’re at work, take short, scheduled breaks when you can. Take a full hour for lunch. Get up and move with stretching or walking breaks. Go for a ten-minute power walk. Walking outside has been proven to decrease stress and energize us. Schedule leisure time into your nights and weekends at least once a week. Set aside a few hours for family time, enjoying the outdoors, or sharing a meal with a friend. It will make all the difference in your week.

5. PRIORITIZE, PRIORITIZE, PRIORITIZE

Prioritization is the key to time management. Each night, make a to-do list for the next day. Ask yourself, “If I only got three things done tomorrow, what would I want those three things to be?” Decide what you can realistically accomplish by the end of the next day. Then revise your list accordingly. When you prioritize your tasks, you can wake up the next morning confident and prepared to take on the day, instead of feeling fragmented and overwhelmed.

When you’re overwhelmed, time management can seem impossible. But when you start to practice these simple tips to manage your time, you’ll find freedom in your day and stop feeling constantly frazzled. Prioritize your tasks and say no to unnecessary invitations. Soon, you’ll become a happier, more productive person, both at home and at work.

RESPECT LIFE NEWS -- SPIRITUAL ADOPTION

“Before I formed you in the womb
I knew you... before you were born
I consecrated you”

Jeremiah 1:4-10

We ask that you spiritually adopt an unborn child. This is done by praying for one particular, but unknown child; that he or she is allowed the gift of life.

Respect Life Spiritually Adopted Baby Week 25

Please pray that our baby, who is not yet born, will receive the gift of Life. As we follow our unborn baby to birth, this is what's going on in the womb during week 25.

“I am growing more slowly, yet still steadily, and I'm looking forward to the day that I am born into the world. If my parents were to take a peek inside the womb right now, they would see that I have already started to suck my thumb. What a soothing sensation! I could even cry, if I felt like it. But, for now, I am safe and happy. I'm looking forward to being held in the arms of someone who loves me. Please pray for me.”

Jesus, Mary and Joseph, I love you very much.
I beg you to spare the life of the unborn baby whom I have spiritually adopted who is in danger of abortion.

SCHOOL OF RELIGION

CATECISMO

KATECHEZA

The School of Religion will begin the 2018-2019 school year this week. The theme for our year is P.R.A.Y., reminding us to Praise, Reconcile and Ask Yahweh. Please keep our students and our many catechists, aides and volunteers in your prayers as we strive to bring the Light of Jesus Christ to our children and young people.

Classes begin on:

Saturday, September 8

Sunday, September 9

Wednesday, September 12

The School of Religion is very pleased to introduce our new secretary, Julie Perez. Julie and her family are long time parishioners and she has volunteered in the School of Religion for many years. Her strong faith, energy and bilingual ability make her a perfect fit for our ministry. Theresa Hart will continue to serve as secretary in our office as well. Please stop by as you pass our office and welcome Julie into our School of Religion family.

Caring for one another...

Our church is a family and we consider our community a part of that family. We strive to care for and encourage those both within and beyond our walls. Our care ministry brings the Eucharist to our people to hospital, nursing homes and family homes. By taking some time to extend a helping hand we can show God's love and we assure our interest in their welfare and spiritual life.

your neighbor?
