THE MOST HOLY BODY AND BLOOD OF CHRIST (CORPUS CHRISTI) LITURGY OF THE WORD

READING I —EX 24:3-8

When Moses came to the people and related all the words and ordinances of the LORD, they all answered with one voice, "We will do everything that the LORD has told us." Moses then wrote down all the words of the LORD and, rising early the next day, he erected at the foot of the mountain an altar and twelve pillars for the twelve tribes of Israel. Then, having sent certain young men of the Israelites to offer holocausts and sacrifice young bulls as peace offerings to the LORD, Moses took half of the blood and put it in large bowls; the other half he splashed on the altar. Taking the book of the covenant, he read it aloud to the people, who answered, "All that the LORD has said, we will heed and do." Then he took the blood and sprinkled it on the people, saying, "This is the blood of the covenant that the LORD has made with you in accordance with all these words of his."

PSALM No. 116: THE NAME OF GOD

READING II —HEB 9:11-15

Brothers and sisters:

When Christ came as high priest of the good things that have come to be, passing through the greater and more perfect tabernacle not made by hands, that is, not belonging to this creation, he entered once for all into the sanctuary, not with the blood of goats and calves but with his own blood, thus obtaining eternal redemption. For if the blood of goats and bulls and the sprinkling of a heifer's ashes can sanctify those who are defiled so that their flesh is cleansed, how much more will the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself unblemished to God, cleanse our consciences from dead works to worship the living God.

For this reason he is mediator of a new covenant: since a death has taken place for deliverance from transgressions under the first covenant, those who are called may receive the promised eternal inheritance.

GOSPEL —MK 14:12-16, 22-26

On the first day of the Feast of Unleavened Bread, when they sacrificed the Passover lamb, Jesus' disciples said to him, "Where do you want us to go and prepare for you to eat the Passover?" He sent two of his disciples and said to them, "Go into the city and a man will meet you, carrying a jar of water. Follow him. Wherever he enters, say to the master of the house, 'The Teacher says, "Where is my guest room where I may eat the Passover with my disciples?"' Then he will show you a large upper room furnished and ready. Make the preparations for us there." The disciples then went off, entered the city, and found it just as he had told them; and they prepared the Passover. While they were eating, he took bread, said the blessing, broke it, gave it to them, and said, "Take it; this is my body." Then he took a cup, gave thanks, and gave it to them, and they all drank from it. He said to them, "This is my blood of the covenant, which will be shed for many. Amen, I say to you, I shall not drink again the fruit of the vine until the day when I drink it new in the kingdom of God." Then, after singing a hymn, they went out to the Mount of Olives.

Stick together. Love each other, and together: Look to Jesus in Prayer.

TAKE IT; THIS IS MY BODY: CHRIST IS WHOLLY PRESENT IN THE EUCHARIST.

All three readings today speak of covenant: first, the covenant God made with the people of Israel, and second, the new covenant extended to all through the mediation of Christ and God's promise of eternal salvation. They are beautiful Scriptures in and of themselves, but they are especially important for the feast that the Church celebrates today: the most holy Body and Blood of Christ – the feast of Corpus Christi.

We hear these familiar words and give thanks and praise for them: Jesus took bread, said the blessing, broke it, gave it to them, and said, "Take it; this is my body." Then he took a cup, gave thanks, and gave it to them, and they all drank from it. He said to them, "This is my blood of the covenant, which will be shed for many."

The feast of Corpus Christi is marked in places all over the world with public Eucharistic processions: an opportunity to share the Blessed Sacrament with, not just Catholics who encounter the Real Presence in Mass and Exposition, but all people. It reminds us, and others – if they are open to hearing God's message – that Christ's redemption is for all.

To some outside of our Catholic communion, it may seem quite odd that we would have such a feast day, but not to us. For at the very core of who we are as Catholics is our belief that, through Christ's Word and the action of the Holy Spirit; the instrumentality of the priest; and under the appearances of bread and wine, the risen Christ is truly, fully, and substantially present in body, blood, soul and divinity (cf., CCC 1374, 1375).

The feast and its processions mark the most visible example of "public witness" of our beliefs (cf., Can. 944 §1, 2), but it ought never be our only public witness. For in addition to the graces bestowed upon us in our reception and veneration of the Eucharist are the fruits of our communion that our life of discipleship can bring to the world. Christ is the mediator of a new covenant that seals our eternal relationship to the Father, and promises everlasting life. In our communion with him we have both blessed opportunity, and scriptural commandment, to share that gift with others.

Perhaps it is hard to explain, or understand, why some people choose to stay away from so great a gift! But we are here. We are here because we are in awe of our God. We are in awe of a God who would not spare his only Son to prove his love for us. We are in awe that God would make it so very simple for us to have him with us until the end of time. And maybe, in her wisdom, this is why the Church has such a public witness of our devotion to the Eucharist. And perhaps this is where our own smaller, "public witness" comes into play.

After our celebration here today, and in every moment, let us proceed into the world as a visible representation of that which is made real to us here in the Eucharist. May we bear its fruits by helping to build the kingdom of God.

THE HEART OF THE MATTER: TIME FOR REFLECTION AND SPIRITUAL GROWTH

1. How has your experience at Mass helped you become a more active participant? What can you do to keep it fresh?
2. What do you/could you do to keep Jesus present with you throughout the week?
3. What sacrifices have you made in your journey to follow Jesus?
4. What do you think the Church means when it calls the Eucharist the "Source and Summit" of our Faith?

I AM THE LIVING BREAD THAT CAME DOWN FROM HEAVEN, SAYS THE LORD; WHOEVER EATS THIS BREAD WILL LIVE FOREVER.

THANK YOU!

Dear Friends of Transfiguration Parish,

With a grateful heart, I want to say thank you for the wonderful retirement send-off last weekend. So many of you stopped by with good wishes and words of thanks, so many left cards and notes, and so many left a gift, all of which was so supportive and caring. For all of that, I am most grateful.

I also want to thank Dave Jakubek and Ken Michaels for organizing and providing the refreshments in the Gathering Place. It was another great sign of the hospitality that Transfiguration does so well. Thanks, too, to all who helped with that part of the weekend.

As we move forward now into the future, please be assured of my prayers for you and the parish. I ask for your prayers as well. If ever there is anything I can help you with, please do not hesitate to contact me.

"Then he took a cup, gave thanks, and gave it to them and they all drank from it."

— Mark 14:23

Jesus, the perfect steward, gave thanks, just before He gave Himself to us completely for our salvation. He offers us the chance to drink from His cup. In the Eucharist, we meet Christ personally and, if we listen to Him, we know what drinking from His cup means our own sacrifice – giving up some of our time, talent and treasure to do His work on earth.

"Entonces tomó una copa, dio gracias, y se la dio a ellos, y todos bebieron de ella".

— Marcos 14:23

Jesús, el mayordomo perfecto, dio gracias, justo antes de entregarse a nosotros por completo para nuestra salvación. Él nos ofrece la oportunidad de beber de su copa. En la Eucaristía nos encontramos personalmente con Cristo y, si lo escuchamos, sabemos lo que significa beber de su copa, nuestro propio sacrificio, sacrificando parte de nuestro tiempo, talento y tesoro para hacer su obra en la tierra.

3 Strategies for Making Great Decisions

Decisions. You will make hundreds of them today. In fact, you will make hundreds of decisions every day. The thing we do most in life is make decisions. In many ways, the quality of our lives is determined by the quality of our decisions. Every day your decisions can range from small things like what to have for breakfast, to big things like whether or not to take a job that would require moving your family across the country.

In many ways, the quality of our lives is determined by the quality of our decisions. Yet, tragically, most of the world goes through life thinking good decisions are often the result of chance. But, being a great decision-maker is not a matter of luck. It's a matter of identifying and applying proven strategies that put you in a position to make the best decision you can with the information you have.

Here are three game-changing strategies to help you make great decisions, whether small or large.

1. START WITH PURPOSE

Identifying your purpose in life is the most powerful tool in decision-making. Why? Because having a purpose allows you to cut to the heart of every decision and place it in its proper context. Identifying your life's purpose will be like a north star for your life. It will direct your decisions, both big and small. For example, let's say you identify that your purpose in life is to become rich. This allows you to evaluate every decision by asking yourself, "Will this help me to make more money?" That way, next time you are considering staying up late to binge-watch Netflix or watch your favorite sports team in overtime, you can ask yourself, "Will staying up late help me make more money?" The answer will likely be no, because if you are tired at work the next day you won't perform at your best, you won't make that sale, and your bottom line will be impacted. Now, I don't recommend your ultimate purpose in life being to get rich. (Instead I'd invite you to consider the idea of becoming the-best-version-of-yourself as your life's ultimate purpose.) But I think you get the point. Identifying your life's purpose will be like a north star for your life. It will direct your decisions, both big and small.

2. HAVE A STRONG WHY

Let's say you decide to go on a diet because you want to be healthier. That's a good and noble choice. It's a strong enough why to get started, but is it strong enough to last? Let's test it out. You have a crazy morning and don't get to eat breakfast. When you get to work, you are really, really hungry. You walk into the breakroom and see that a coworker brought doughnuts in for their birthday. Suddenly, you're staring at your favorite pastry—a jelly doughnut. "I am on a diet so I can be healthier," is up against, "I am incredibly hungry, and I want to eat this doughnut!" Your why doesn't look so strong now does it? But, what if your why is, "I am on a diet because I want to be there to walk my daughter down the aisle." Now, that is a different story. In the first case, your why is noble, but it is also impersonal, general, and ultimately weak. In the second, your why is personal, specific, compelling, and capable of withstanding even the toughest of temptations. When you make a decision, big or small, have a why that is personal, specific, and compelling, and you will give that decision significant lasting power.

3. ENLIST THE HELP OF A FRIEND

One of the best ways to vet your why is to consult a good friend before making a decision. A few years ago, I had a big decision to make. Even though my mind was pretty made up, I decided to call my best friend to see what he thought. After all, this was a big deal. Truly good friends never quietly tolerate their friends' bad decisions. Respectfully, my friend voiced strong opposition to what I was thinking and challenged me to reconsider. His reasons were sound, and his tone left me unnerved. As a result of the conversation, I decided to take a little more time and followed my friend's advice. It turned out to be one of the best decisions I have ever made. And I know I wouldn't have had the courage to make it without him.

Truly good friends never quietly tolerate their friends' bad decisions. Good friends intervene in each other's lives and help them make great decisions. Good friends hold each other accountable when they make decisions.

If you have a decision to make, consulting a trusted friend or mentor can make all the difference.

While these three strategies don't guarantee you make a great decision every time (you still have free will!), they will put you in the best position to make a great decision.

JACK BEERS

“THE FUTURE STARTS TODAY, NOT TOMORROW”

- St. John Paul II

Dear Parishioners of Transfiguration in Wauconda,

I would like to express my gratitude before leaving Transfiguration, in order to be a pastor in Divine Infant Jesus Parish in Westchester, starting July 1.

I have been truly blessed, in my priestly ministry in Wauconda, while I have spent two wonderful years here! THANK YOU SO MUCH FROM THE BOTTOM OF MY HEART to all of you and each one of you personally!!!

In a special way, I would like to thank our pastor, Fr. Juan Pablo Avila. It has been a very positive experience for me to minister and live with Fr. Juan Pablo, who is my Mundelein Seminary classmate.

From the perspective of time, I strongly believe it was truly a God's blessing to be assigned as an associate pastor to Transfiguration!

I am grateful to our permanent deacons: Feliks, Jose and Robert. Particularly, I appreciate their help and assistance during different liturgies.

THANK YOU also to the Parish Staff, Frassati Catholic Academy and Religious Education Program. There is no doubt, you made a difference in my life. I hope I made a difference in yours.

On a very personal note, I am very grateful to the Knights of Columbus.

I truly enjoyed being a chaplain for my Brothers Knights. Thank you for all your help and support.

I will treasure so many beautiful memories!!!

Last but not least, I would like to thank all parish organizations and ALL PARISHIONERS. Transfiguration parish consists of three different communities: English, Polish and Spanish. This diversity reflects the world we live in and the global dimension of the Catholic Church.

All of you truly touched my life and priestly ministry in many different ways! I have learned and experienced so much from all of you!

You helped me to become a better person and more holy priest. I will carry this with myself in my future ministry!!!

On the other hand, I am aware of my weaknesses and limitations. If I made a mistake or offended someone, I would like to say: I AM SO SORRY!

Finally, I would like to leave you with one of my favorite quotes:

“ DON'T CRY BECAUSE IT'S OVER, SMILE BECAUSE IT HAPPENED”

- Dr. Seuss

You are in my heart and my prayers. Please, pray for me so I will be a good priest and pastor.

Just to let you know, my FAREWELL WEEKEND will be June 16-17. (Father's day weekend) I will be preaching during all masses.

Please, do not hesitate to write or visit me.

My new address is:

Fr. Marcin Szczypula
Divine Infant Jesus Parish
1601 Newcastle Ave.
Westchester, IL 60154

P.s. It's always nice to get together for a cup of coffee!

Thank You So Much, Muchas Gracias, Serdecznie Dziekuje!!!

You can put your Faith in Action by becoming involved with St. Vincent de Paul. Please call our number to learn more from one of our associates, attend a meeting as an inquiring guest or go to www.svdpusa.org. MINISTERS OF CARE

Caring for one another...

Our church is a family and we consider our community a part of that family. We strive to care for and encourage those both within and beyond our walls. Our care ministry brings the Eucharist to our people to hospital, nursing homes and family homes. By taking some time to extend a helping hand we can show God's love and we assure our interest in their welfare and spiritual life.

Have a desire to help care for your neighbor?

Contact Kathy Baggio at
(847) 849-7456 to see how you can help out.
