FIFTH SUNDAY OF EASTER LITURGY OF THE WORD

READING I — ACTS 14:21-27

After Paul and Barnabas had proclaimed the good news to that city and made a considerable number of disciples, they returned to Lystra and to Iconium and to Antioch. They strengthened the spirits of the disciples and exhorted them to persevere in the faith, saying, "It is necessary for us to undergo many hardships to enter the kingdom of God." They appointed elders for them in each church and, with prayer and fasting, commended them to the Lord in whom they had put their faith. Then they traveled through Pisidia and reached Pamphylia. After proclaiming the word at Perga they went down to Attalia. From there they sailed to Antioch, where they had been commended to the grace of God for the work they had now accomplished. And when they arrived, they called the church together and reported what God had done with them and how he had opened the door of faith to the Gentiles.

PSALM 145: I Will Praise Your Name #76

READING II — REV 21:1-5a

Then I, John, saw a new heaven and a new earth. The former heaven and the former earth had passed away, and the sea was no more. I also saw the holy city, a new Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven from God, prepared as a bride adorned for her husband. I heard a loud voice from the throne saying, "Behold, God's dwelling is with the human race. He will dwell with them and they will be his people and God himself will always be with them as their God. He will wipe every tear from their eyes, and there shall be no more death or mourning, wailing or pain, for the old order has passed away." The One who sat on the throne said, "Behold, I make all things new."

GOSPEL — JN 13:31-33a,34-35

When Judas had left them, Jesus said, "Now is the Son of Man glorified, and God is glorified in him. If God is glorified in him, God will also glorify him in himself, and God will glorify him at once. My children, I will be with you only a little while longer. I give you a new commandment: love one another. As I have loved you, so you also should love one another. This is how all will know that you are my disciples, if you have love for one another."

Stick together. Love each other, and together: Look to Jesus in Prayer.

A CHRIST-LIKE LOVE IS THE HALLMARK OF THE TRUE CHRISTIAN.

Everyone, believers and non-believers alike, is familiar with the Golden Rule: Do unto others as you would have them do unto you. In other words, treat others as you would expect to be treated. We can all agree that it is very reasonable and practical and makes good sense. Even Jesus seems to endorse it! But as we hear today, Jesus is never one simply for minimums or convenient half-measures. He always calls us to a higher standard or way of thinking – one that is not just in keeping with human expectations, reason and demands, but one that aligns with God's ways.

In today's Gospel passage from John, Jesus gives us a new commandment, one that will take commitment, perseverance and self-giving on our part even when it might not seem practical or even sensible. We are told today that we are to love as he loves.

Note that Jesus calls it a commandment, not an option but a mandate for every Christian: As I have loved, so you also should love one another. Measure for measure, our behavior in all aspects of our life must strive to be Christ-like, not merely reasonable or convenient but modeled on Christ. Now that is quite a demand!

So how can we describe this Christ-like love? One key word that the ancient Greeks used was agape – selfless, unconditional and self-giving love. We have only to look upon the cross to see that love poured out for each one of us in the outstretched arms of the crucified Christ. Right through the Gospels, we see this love exemplified in Jesus' words and actions in the way he encounters sinners, heals and liberates the sick, faithfully preaches the word and is faithful to the Father in all things.

Based simply on reason, it might seem like the life and mission of Jesus ended in failure and death. But God's ways are so different from ours; Christ's love is so much richer and fuller than mere human love. And it is this love that we are called to imitate in all its fullness, its faithfulness and, even at times, its impracticality.

Here today, Jesus sets a new command for his disciples. But he also give us the means to fulfill it: through his example (as he says in the passage), and in the sending of the Holy Spirit later to help us. We are not set up for failure, for the very credibility of the Christian message depends on our witness and how we live out that commandment of love.

Today, as we ponder his command, we might ask ourselves whether love is at the heart of our lives. And keeping in mind that we can do all things with God's help, let us commit to love of God and love of neighbor. To serving others lovingly, speaking lovingly and forgiving abundantly. For a Christ-like love is the hallmark of the true Christian.

THE HEART OF THE MATTER: TIME FOR REFLECTION AND SPIRITUAL GROWTH

1. Most Peoples think they are loving because they are nice. In fact, we value "niceness" in Transfig. But what is the distinction between being loving and being nice?
2. Jesus gave his disciples, and to all of us, a new commandment: "love one another: just as I have loved you" How is this command from Jesus both old AND new? What makes it new?
3. It will always be a challenge to love others. What would be one way I could show my love for others?

I give you a new commandment:
love one another.
As I have loved you,
so you also should love one another.

ROSE SALE UPDATE

Lake County Right to Life is grateful for everyone who helped to make our Mother's Day Rose Sale a success. We sold 700 roses and collected $1,402 for them this year to help save moms and babies from abortion! May God, the Author of all Life, bless you!

UPDATE ON CHURCH BATHROOM REMODEL

For the past 2-3 years the church bathrooms have had numerous and serious issues that needed our attention. We recently received some very generous bequests from the Paddock Family, and the Vance Family Foundation. We also received several parishioner donations and used $39,000 of our To Teach Who Christ Is money donated by you, our parishioners. We will be able to complete the $100,000 project without using any Sunday donations or money from our regular operating budget. We are blessed to be able to complete this necessary improvement to our parish because of your generosity.

Love Is Patient: A Cynic's Guide to Patience in Relationships

“Love is patient; love is kind; love is not envious or boastful or arrogant or rude. It does not insist on its own way; it is not irritable or resentful; it does not rejoice in wrongdoing but rejoices in the truth. It bears all things, believes all things, hopes all things, endures all things. Love never ends.”

Right there at the top: “Love is patient.” This gives the impression that it’s important; patience matters. We want love. We don’t want patience—unless it’s from someone else, of course. Love is patient, we are not. This is why, as people who hope to love, who want strong relationships and marriages, who have people in our lives we want to love, we must attempt to conform ourselves to love by striving to be patient. How though?

ACCEPT

Patience is not contingent on the good behavior of others. People are going to screw up, in big ways and small. Things are not going to go as planned, and we will spend a lot of time waiting. Patience demands that we not react harshly to the inevitable instances when our loved ones demonstrate their weaknesses and faults, or when our life together is different from how we imagined it would be. Love isn’t necessarily something we are just born understanding and able to flawlessly put into practice—far from it. We learn to love slowly, one moment at a time. Furthermore, we must remember that our desires are not demands. In other words, what we want—especially for and from someone else—should not be imposed on them. Your loved one is not an extension of yourself. We have to accept who they are and where they are and embrace their complete otherness. Basically, we can accept that the person we fell in love with—and possibly idealized a little bit—is not perfect. And out of love, we are invited to not merely tolerate their shortcomings, but to be compassionate toward them. Again . . . how?

RESPOND

Don’t react. It is entirely normal to feel impatient, annoyed, or frustrated toward your loved one.

You don’t have to be cheery about the fact that they did something which disappointed you or hurt you in some way (again). Patience comes in the space between what you’re feeling and how you react. Responding is a deep breath followed by a thought-out, gentle remark or question—or a decision to “let this slide,” because you realize it’s not a matter worth bringing up. A reaction doesn’t take into account the long-term consequences of an outburst; it is only concerned with the release of strong emotions being felt in the current moment. A response is able to order the emotions to the good of the relationship by holding back angry words or other wounding actions. A reaction does not take into account the other; it is preoccupied with self. A response is an act of love toward the other and self. A response serves the relationship, a reaction often wounds it.

PRO TIP: EMPATHY

While you’re taking time to respond, it helps if you step into your loved one’s shoes. Often, we can assume the worst intentions because we refuse to simply walk a mile in the other person’s shoes. Love isn’t necessarily something we are just born understanding and able to flawlessly put into practice—far from it. We learn to love slowly, one moment at a time. But we keep trying. The beauty about it is that love not only allows us to be in relationship with others but also makes us a-better-version-of-ourselves.

Improvement is hard-earned, and sometimes the hard part is simply pausing when you feel the familiar rush of irritation welling up inside.

And remember: Patience is a virtue!

And, practice makes perfect!

And other annoying axioms.

TRANSFIGURATION MINISTRY OF PRAYER

We know that life can be challenging and the only thing that may help to get you back to center is Prayer. We believe very strongly in the power of Prayer. This belief and knowing comes from seeing or hearing about the many demonstrations or testimonies in the lives of people around the world.

At the end of weekend Masses the Transfiguration Ministry of Prayer will be in the front of the Church to pray for you or someone you love and care for.

Please know that each Minister of Transfiguration Ministry of Prayer commits to holding your intentions in the light of Christ, standing in Truth, Principle and Love. Prayer is the tool we use to know the truth. It is not about begging or pleading for something to happen to change the conditions in life. It is about aligning ourselves with the all good of God that surrounds us at all times.

Every request we receive is treated with love, compassion, respect and dignity.

Daily Mass Intentions are available for anyone who would like their intentions to be remembered at Mass. Intentions are available for those who have died or for someone who is living.

Saint Vincent de Paul MINISTRY

WE NEED YOU!!!

Are you looking for a way to put your Faith in Action? Do you wonder if you might be cut out for “showing mercy”, but don’t know how? Do you have one to three hours per month? You can put your Faith in Action by becoming involved with St. Vincent de Paul. Please call our number to learn more from one of our associates, attend a meeting as an inquiring guest or go to www.svdpusa.org. If you hear a tiny voice deep inside urging you to “do something”, consider joining St. Vincent de Paul at Transfiguration parish.

We look forward to welcoming YOU!

PRAY FOR VOCATIONS

Lord, Jesus we ask you to send more servants to your people.

Choose from our parishes,
from our homes,
from our schools and colleges,
an abundant harvest of apostles
for your Kingdom: priests, sisters, brothers, deacons and lay ministers.

We pray that those you call may never lose awareness of the dignity and need of their vocation.

O Virgin Mary,
Mother of the Church,
teach to all those the Master calls
to say a joyful “yes”
as you did at the Annunciation.
Amen.

RESPECT LIFE NEWS --
SPIRITUAL ADOPTION

“Before I formed you in the womb I knew you...before you were born I consecrated you”

Jeremiah 1:4-10

Through Spiritual Adoption, you commit yourself to remembering that child in prayer for 40 weeks, thus “adopting” them, until the day that they are born. This is a prayerful way to open our hearts to those who are voiceless and to be a strong witness to the sanctity of all life.

Respect Life Spiritually Adopted Baby – Week 9

Please pray that our baby, who is not yet born, will receive the gift of Life. As we follow our unborn baby to birth, this is what’s going on in the womb during week 9.

“This is the week for fingers and toes. Mine are developing really fast this week. I can’t wait to have someone count them and tell me about the “Little Piggy that went to Market”. I have opened my mouth wide for the first time. Someday, I will smile and melt my parents’ hearts. Right now, my heart beats quickly at 150 beats per minute. Isn’t God wonderful? Pray for me.”

Jesus, Mary and Joseph, I love you very much.

I beg you to spare the life of the unborn baby whom I have spiritually adopted who is in danger of abortion.
Amen.
